UNIVERSITY JAZZ ENSEMBLE

There is a long history of student jazz bands at the University. They went by a variety of names, and all were extracurricular. The University Jazz Ensemble, the current incarnation, was founded in 1996 by Terry Vosbein as an academic course within the Department of Music. Over the past twenty-five years the band has performed annual concerts on campus, showcasing the many talented students that have passed through its ranks. Additionally, they have performed in cities such as Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, New Orleans, and Atlanta, and have toured Russia, China, and Greece.

VOSBEIN MAGEE BIG BAND

A professional big band based in the Shenandoah Valley, the Vosbein Magee Big Band features the area's best jazz musicians playing music that one can't hear anywhere else. Since its inception, the band has performed over 70 compositions and arrangements, many written by band members.

Vosbein and trumpeter Chris Magee had been collaborating for many years. Gig after gig they talked about putting a band together. Finally, in the summer of 2015, it all began. Four years later they recorded their first CD, "Come and Get It," a live concert recording that critic Joe Lang called "first rate big band sounds" (Jersey Jazz).

TERRY VOSBEIN

New Orleans born composer, Terry Vosbein has received numerous commissions to write new works from such organizations as the Cleveland Orchestra and the Cleveland Museum of Art. He has composed works for orchestra, wind ensemble, various chamber ensembles, and choir. He has written works for jazz bands of all sizes. And his compositions have been performed all over the world.

In addition to his activities as a composer, Vosbein was an active jazz bassist and arranger for over twenty-five years. He performed and arranged for a variety of ensembles, including the Glenn Miller Orchestra and the Atlanta Pops.

He resides in Staunton, Virginia with his wife, Shannon, and their Alaskan husky, Luna.
